

Biscuit City Trail

Points of interest: Biscuit City Preserve is a historically significant site to the Town of South Kingstown. The area dates back to when Native Americans and colonists used it for a water source due to the natural spring that is located on the site. Also there are many historic ruins which include the mill foundation, the water wheel pit, the cellar hole to the miller's house, and a root cellar. The old spring house has been newly renovated for safety reasons.

Directions to Trailhead: From Route 1 southbound take exit for Route 110 (Ministerial Road). Follow Ministerial Road for 5.9 miles to a light at the intersection of Route 138. Take a right and continue 1.1 miles to Biscuit City Road. Take right onto Biscuit City Road and proceed 0.4 miles, then turn right onto Ledgewood Road. Follow Ledgewood to the end, then turn left on Springdale Drive. Proceed to the corner, and park on the right side of the road. The pond is on the right and visible from the road.
